Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. You should not make any assumptions on the future on the basis of performance information. The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise as a result of market and currency fluctuations and you may not get back the amount originally invested.

Specific risks and Disclaimer

As this Fund may invest in overseas securities it may be exposed to and can hold currencies other than pounds sterling. As a result, exchange rate movements may cause the value of investments to decrease or increase.

The Fund has the ability to invest in companies that may have a volatile share price (e.g. the healthcare and technology sectors). Accordingly, investment in the Fund may be subject to sudden and large falls in value and you might not get back the full amount originally invested.

The Fund may have a concentrated portfolio of assets; lower diversification and active stock selection can result in greater than average investment in individual companies. Such concentration can give rise to more risk than where investments are spread over a large number of companies. Whilst this may increase the potential gains, this concentration of exposure and lack of diversification may also substantially increase the risk of loss to the Fund.

Emerging markets tend to be more volatile than more established stock markets and therefore your money is at greater risk. Other risk factors such as political and economic conditions should also be considered. Restrictive dealing, custody and settlement practices may be prevalent. A counterparty may not pay or deliver on time or as expected. As a result, settlement may be delayed and the cash or securities could be disadvantaged. Securities of many companies in emerging markets are less liquid and their prices more volatile than securities of comparable companies in more sizeable markets.

Smaller companies may be riskier and less liquid than larger companies, which means that their share price may be more volatile.

Income from the Fund is increased by taking the annual management charge from capital. Because of this, the level of income may be higher but the growth potential of the capital value of the investment may be reduced.
